Jordi Mas Parramon

About me

- Web programmer with 5+ years of experience

- Occasional Android developer

- I studied a Double Higher Degree Training Course in Web and Multiplatform Application Development in Montilivi Institute, Girona

- I LOVE CSS and visual design

- I was the main developer of a social network related to art, at In2art, where I was responsible for the frontend, design and part of the backend. I built the web page from scratch in Angular, CSS, and TypeScript

Hobbies

- I like programming, playing videogames, listening to music and watching series and movies, but also playing sports, going out with friends, driving with music and climbing.

- I developed a web, a portfolio showing my experience and my projects, such as the android apps and games I developed in my free time. Take a look! jordimas96.github.io
